Report

The traditional first tournament of the season in Växjö. Once again we had plenty of new Lugi faces. Some playing their first rugby and some just their first games in the Lugi maroon(with *). The team started out fast by pushing last year's 7s champions all the way to a 10-10 draw in a game that should really have been won following trys from Martina and Elizabeth S. The fast start however was followed up by a mentally poor performance against Malmö and the group stages was rounded off with a win over Borås allowing our newbies plenty of game time. Day 2 saw a tired looking team struggle to find the energy that they brought day 1 and losses followed to a strong Linköping team as well as a Uppsala outfit that got the better of us following an early try. Whilst not the best place finish the team has had at Håkes, it was a good first building block on the road of the 2018 season.

Report

A new tournament on the Swedish circuit and one close to home. The ladies used this a chance to develop their play style ahead of the upcoming SM qualifiers and eventually coming away with 4 wins to 2 losses, winning the plate competition. Despite being without key players at various times in the tournament, the ladies worked very well together as a team allowing Martina to capitalise with all of 8 trys over the weekend.

Despite having a difficult start to Sunday's action with a loss to Malmö, the team recovered well, bagging a second victory over Kalmar before blitzing Enköping in the final with trys from both Elizabeth's and Martina.

SM Round 1

Match 1 – Win vs. Pingvin 17-10

Match 2 – Loss vs. Kalmar 7-35

Match 3 – Win vs. Gripen 36-5

Match 4 – Win vs. Malmö 10-0

Report

The first round of the SM 7s qualifier was to be held in Malmö and despite coach Ross Watson being unable to attend, the team put forth an outstanding performance over the four games of the one day format.

Starting the day off against Pingvin, the team were able to capitalise on the strong line breaks of Lisa and An-Marthe to finish off with trys as well as managing the pressure the opposition into mistakes to see the game out 17-10.

Following the second game and a loss to a much stronger Kalmar the girls managed to get get back on track with a win against Gripen, even if the performance was not up to expected standards.

The final game of the day was going to be key in the battle for qualification, with Malmö standing for our opposition, the winner would end the day with a total of three wins and second place in the qualification process. Perhaps due to the tension of the occasion, the game became somewhat of a scrappy affair with Malmö coming close on a few occasions but eventually the game ended in Lugi's favour 10-0 with trys coming from An-Marthe and Martina.

SM Round 2

Match 1 – Loss vs. Pingvin 12-20

Match 2 – Loss vs. Kalmar 7-33

Match 3 – Win vs. Gripen 31-5

Match 4 – Loss vs. Malmö 10-24

Report

Following the impressive round 1 effort, the ladies took the short drive down to Trelleborg with a weakened team needing two wins to secure qualification. Game one against Pingvin ended up being the reverse of the previous meeting with the girls not being able to stop Pingvins pace out wide and eventually falling 12-20. The second match of the day against Kalmar once again saw our ladies on the losing side despite a much improved performance with newcomer Josefin Dynfors impressing with a try.

Following a win against Gripen the ladies prepared for a do or die match against old rivals Malmö to secure qualification, but the odds were stacked up against the team, who had unfortunately gone down to just 7 players following injuries, a challenge that proved just too big. Malmö led at the half with 0-10 and it seemed as Lugi's fate was sealed. However with just a half to go the team seemed to throw off the shackles of pressure and produce some excellent rugby to begin turning the game, Elizabeth Sonnenholzner accounting for both tries, of which one included her making a mazy run from the halfway line, beating at least five of the Malmö defence. Unfortunately, the lack of numbers told on the team as tiredness crept in and Malmö capitalised with a breakaway try to put the final nail in the Lugi coffin.

With other results on the day not going the way of the girls it was an unfortunate exit from SM 7s 2018.
